

Re: Campaigning is a 'Science', too.

Re: Campaigning is a 'Science', too.

---

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.physics/2008-05/msg01292.html>

---

- From: NoEinstein <noeinstei@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Sat, 17 May 2008 08:14:47 -0700 (PDT)
-

On May 15, 1:45 pm, NoEinstein <noeinstei...@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

OBAMA TAKES THE AMERICAN PEOPLE FOR GRANTED

While the beleaguered Democratic race for the presidential nomination goes on, Barack Obama has rolled-down his trademark, Screaming Howard Dean, rolled-up sleeves . The latter sleeve positions were one of the ways that Obama mimicked, and MOCKED, the hard-working men and women of America. Obama has had substantially more success at attracting people who are naïve, near-sighted, or blind; i.e., those who favor continuing our failed party-against-party, group-against-group, and class-against-class contests. But the latter, perennially ineffectual, contests have been negating the democratic, representative form of government we deserve, and which we so desperately need, again.

Instead of rolled-up sleeves, recently, Obama has been wearing the more conventional, coat and tie attire of a President of the USA. He hopes that by looking presidential, he can steam-roll the remaining undecideds in Kentucky, Oregon, and Puerto Rico. But mainly he expects that enough weak-minded super delegates will get on his Pied Piper Bandwagon to give him& the fateful numbers that he needs. Those RATS will follow him out of town. But it would be best for America if they would follow him out of this country!

CNN s Wolf Blitzer interviewed Hillary Clinton, recently. When Blitzer asked Hillary about her daughter, Chelsea, Hillary started to cry. Those were most telling tears. They were tears that should TUG at the heart of America! And they were tears that should separate the GENUINE candidate from the phony. Blitzer s implied question wasn t so much about: Don t you have a wo