Thats out past Oodnadatta – you're a crazy man to even consider that!

When I went in 2000 to catch the eclipse, Woomera, Wilpena, Adelaide etc, I took 2 of the kids. I didn't even attempt to convince the dearly beloved.

In fact we were away for her birthday, and when we got back, the phones had been cut off because I had missed paying a bill during the preparations.

Yeah, it was bad!

But we should try to give you some help here – ummm...

* Get some Heysen et al landscape paintings books

* The Flinders ranges are picturesque – and the historic towns along the Broken Hill – Port Augusta line are very cute.

* The outback night skies are awesome

* You will find some great spots for some (ahem) outdoor activities

* Push the whole Aussie culture aspect

* Make sure the car has a A-1 airconditioner ;)

Good luck
