First of all, I am not a troll; I am more of an unexplainable phenomenon....
Second of all, my head is so big, it would not fit in your ass.

OM, if you cannot answer my simple question, the least you can do is use something better than the rather tired comeback in which one pretends to cancel the further notification of messages from some insane and truly dangerous bipolar person who, in growing up in El Paso, Texas, has learned that nothing can be circumvented in regards to fear and paranoia unless one divorces ones' selve from real life and realizes that even Usenet will sometimes result in bad dreams unless one simply learns to forgo the emotion of the moment.

As it turns out, I work at Johnson Space Center (JSC) in Clear Lake, Texas (just south of Houston, Texas). Oh, yeah, I am drinking Maker's Mark and Coca Cola so that is why I am so obnoxious.....

On the other hand, I am sorry that your Ford LTD died; I sold mine (did not remove the JSC scurity sticker) to a hispanic guy who moved to Houston in 1998 and has not bothered to get a work visa, but I digress so you can plonk me on that technicality....
