

Re: Air & Space Udvar-Hazy Center

---

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.space.history/2006-04/msg00297.html>

---

- From: "Greg D. Moore \ (Strider\)" <mooregr\_deleteth1s@xxxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Tue, 11 Apr 2006 12:30:01 GMT
-

"David Leshner" <wb8foz@xxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:e1f5gj\$ebk\$1@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Kevin Willoughby <KevinWilloughby@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> writes:

{..} at one end is Congress, at the other is the Washington Monument.

Suffuse

through out this block are the basic principles of freedom of expression, truth and the search for knowledge. (You may choose to agree or disagree with the current or previous American administration, but the basic ideals of the Mall are awe inspiring.)

Not quite. At one end is The Hill; on the other Abe sits, keeping a close eye on them. Midway is the Washington Monument.

Eh, you're both "right"

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/National\_Mall

The Mall proper extends to the Washington Monument.

The stuff west of it is technically West Potomac Park.

But most refer to the entire thing as "The Mall".

What's interesting is to see maps of it a 100 years ago or so before its present form. Complete with a canal, etc.

And now jarringly stuck inbetween is the WWII memorial. The backers INSISTED it had to be right there. The irony is, it's closed down on the Fourth of July because it must be tarped over to avoid damage from the falling fireworks...

Re: Air & Space Udvar-Hazy Center

--

A host is a host from coast to coast.....wb8foz@xxxxxxx
& no one will talk to a host that's close.....[v].(301) 56-LINUX
Unless the host (that isn't close).....pob 1433 is busy, hung or dead.....20915-1433