...Rand, for your sake, I suggest you not use this as a loophole.

There's no way to do so. As I noted, there's no way to know (just as it's nuts to continue to fulminate that "Bush lied!!!). I was simply making an observation.

As I said, I assume that it is sincere. I'm just trying to nudge folks' consciences, to try to minimize false pledges. For that reason, it would be nice to get more than ten, because 10+ would indicate actual sincerity.

Either way, when we get to ten, Eric is effectively killfiled. (I say "effectively" because I will continue to read his entertaining stupidity—I will simply cease to respond to it. That doesn't mean that I won't respond to others who continue to do so.)

Sounds like a loophole to me...
