Sorry OM wrong again. Planet is Kolob. OM should stick to what he know.

...Actually, I *do* know what I'm talking about here. -Trust- me on this one, there's only two people around here who could probably claim to know more about "Star Trek", and neither of them have been hanging around here as much as they used to - Rick Sternback and Mike Okuda.

But the screenwriter for this episode was Joseph Smith:<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Kolob>
This is probably where the Vorlons live. ;-)

Hey pat are you showing disrespect for yourself by acting just like rand has here on this thread, as he has chosen to abdicate his responsibility, do you so want to dishonor your self by continuing to act like you have in the above post.

But it is your choice to lower usenet to you standards or belligerence and disregard for civil discussion, or can you act like a responsible adult and just and try yourself to find a solution to the Darfur issue, as it is nobody else's honor integrity, and self respect here except yours, (well and rands of course, but those are his actions not yours)....
