Based on the commercials, I thought sure that the Necromongers in "Chronicles of Riddick" were going to turn out to be the decendants of Wahabi. They have a hard-on for death and convert by force. But, no.

However, I recommend the movie wholeheartedly. The production design alone justified the five bucks... think "Dune." The science is of course Not There, but it's still a heck of a flick. Just wonderign if parts 2&3 are gonna get made...
