But if you go down further on the page, the painting Crash.jpg contains a well-known type of flying saucer!

Apparently, the Nazis stumbled, in Unter-Akakhor in South America, on one of the flying saucers used by aliens who killed humans and stole their organs for transplants – and whose ships were able to travel at incredible speed because they were filled with a green liquid which dyed the skin of their pilots.

Yes – these aliens and their saucers were encountered by someone before the heroic British – led by Col. Straker – started playing their leading role in a UN-sponsored effort to defend the world against these aliens!

A smaller version of the same painting appears on this site:
