Actually it is stunning how little you know about the military.
I suggest some reading such as joinging as an associate member USNI...you would learn a lot there So I teach. Sit back enjoy.

Anyway class dismissed.

Robert, do you find it even slightly hypocritical to complain about someone "going personal" while you're own comments literally ooze condescension from every sentence?

You do make your fair share of excellent points and observations.
It's a pity you can't make them unless you're talking down to others like children.
