But the question is valid. It's becoming clearer every day that the Vision was created to fill the needs of our military in terms of the missile defense plans
they have for the future.

Only to morons.

You know I'm right.

No, all we know is that you are a moron.

Are you going to say I smell bad too?

This being the Internet, I can have no useful opinion on that matter, at the current state of the technology. You may even be a dog.

My point is simply that the Vision is little different from Apollo in the sense of a new military race.

Re: Is NASA a US "Defence Agency"?

And your point is nonsensical.

Apollo was with the Soviets, and now it's China.

There is no race with China.

Are you saying the cold war with the Soviets was NOT a military race? Are you saying George Bush, and his $1.5 TRILLION of new spending on all things war-like, is not suffering from a case of 'military madness'?

Are you SAYING that the PRICE of TEA in CHINA is NOT a CRITICAL ISSUE? (See, I can write loony and irrelevant things in all caps, too.)

What denial ridden world are you living in???

What fantasy land are you living in?
