Not to mention your

Well for a start you never make a point by point reply. You always respond with general abuse, so who are you to talk.

Most of your "points" are too nutty, stupid, rambling, and disconnected to waste time replying to.– Hide quoted text –

Which ones? Point by point. This is supposed to be a scientific discussion group. We require a point by point rebuttal.

As I said, one can't make a "point-by-point" rebuttal when the "points" ramble meaninglessly and incoherently from one to another, as yours almost always do. Generally, the only time I respond to you is when you express your unsupported delusions about what I think and say, which unfortunately continues to occur on an almost daily basis.

My point essentially is that of credibility. Until you have made 10,000 flights accident free all risk analysis is pure spin. That is one reason why tourism cannot be the killer app except in another sense of the word.

Yet another rambling change of subject.

Lets have a little reality.

Physician, heal thyself. Let's have a little sanity. Or perhaps a medication increase or decrease for Ian.– Hide quoted text –

In other words you can't.
