Space Travel or War / by William Mook

Without a doubt, war it is, unless we can derail the ongoing GW Bush and Dick Cheney fiasco, we're going to go out of our way in order to nail anyone having more than their fair share of energy, be it fossil or nuclear. As you stipulated before of secret societies and special interest groups or cults (especially of the faith-based kind) have been pulling our strings for quite some time.

I don't recall any JFK specific mention of our private Federal Reserve as our global banking cartel, although the highly exclusive history about our Federal Reserve (not an actual part of any government agency), is anything but all that public according to the book "SECRETS OF THE TEMPLE" by William Greider. According to what little we do know, our Federal Reserve is essentially a private banking cartel that's in charge of whatever gets affordably funded and what doesn't of government or private multi-mega ventures, so there's not much wonder as to why it's going to be war and not renewable energy, fusion or even thorium, much less advancements in space travel and explorations instead of war, because there's so darn little skimming profits or compounded fees and subsequent tax revenues to behold of renewable energy, and it's not that much better if we start using thorium as our nuclear fuel in order to easily create a vast surplus of clean grid energy.

Your world is determined by what you think, feel and do. You decide what to think feel and do right here right now. By your choice you are either being productive for yourself, or you are not. By referencing what is in your life right here and right now, and forget obsessing over some imagined past, or some idealized future, you undermine the insane ideas of reference – and begin living your life in a more joyous and peaceful manner.

Try it some times. Get out of your momma's basement, and get a girl friend. I'll even send you a ticket to a sunny place, and pay a sugar baby to join you. That'll get you out of your ideas of reference and into the present moment – and maybe then, you can make some real progress in your life. lol.

Good luck dude.
