Many

demanding
to do
it

The

Allah's

I

are

No,
but if
they
don't,

Re: Retooling the Vision for Space Exploration

they're
not true
Muslims
by
the
Koran.

All
religions
want
their religion
to proliferate
in some
form

another.

Not true.

Rand, when a religion states
"you are what your mother is", is a form
of proliferating that religion.
Jews, though they do not prothletize(sp) as other religions do, they do have children and
rather than make them Christian or Muslim expect them to be Jewish.
That is proliferation.

I wasn't talking about Jews. In any event, this is (as usual) an idiotic change of subject. The issues wasn't whether or not ones religion would "proliferate." It was about whether any others should be tolerated.

Re: Retooling the Vision for Space Exploration

I said: All religions want their religion to proliferate in some form or another.

You said: Not true.

Yes, because it isn't true. Neither is it relevant.

Not relevant to your point that Wahhabi Muslims are bad.

And now YOU are trying to change the subject from proliferation to tolerance. That happens below...

No, I was just shifting it back to the original subject.

Yes, to underpin your belief. Nothing more.

all
religions
are
also interpretative
and
have some
form
of
tolerance
for
others
to

some
degree.

Also not
true.

Name one that isn't.

Wahhabi Islam.

You're right. And the worst part is that our current administration
does nothing about it.

Is there a Wahhabi Islam segment in America. If yes, then where?

It's what's taught in many of the Saudi-funded mosques and madrassas.

And what exactly should we do about it?

Perhaps we should start giving those mostly kind and honest Muslims a right to sell and directly profit from their very own oil and natural gas, just like Saddam had been doing as the Arab black sheep or outcast of their oil rich world, and selling on the open spot-oil market at well under cartel prices, because he could just easily get by on as little as half of what others had been getting away with charging, and he'd still be flush in their local dollars for sustaining that Muslim quality of life that simply didn't at the time demand 10% of whatever an American thinks is sufficient.
